Alexander Pavlov

Technical Director of Volgogradneftemash, JSC

Volgogradneftemash, JSC is one of the biggest producers of pump units. There has been an urgent problem of pump quality since 2009. To increase pump quality it was decided to equip the plant with a diagnostic bench which allows us to make high-quality pumps and certify their quality. DYNAMICS SPC was chosen as a contractor for that task.

Two years of collaboration resulted in our refinery being equipped with a proper bench system which allows us to make full diagnostics of pumps after they've been produced. I want to wish DYNAMICS SPC success in their work, and live to see their 75th Anniversary, as we did, and to continue our cooperation in this field.

Personally, I would like to wish its team lots of creative potential and desire to work further – success comes to the one who works hard.
