Dmitriy Melchakov

Deputy Director General of Achinsk Refinery VNK, JSC

Our refinery implemented our first COMPACS systems at the Isomerization plant and CDU combined units (LK6), where the vibration diagnostic system were also.

Vibration diagnostic systems are successfully implemented in the Achinsk Refinery allowed us to get the information on the machinery state on time, and make adequate decisions on decommissioning the machinery for repair and the possibility of its further operation. The main point is - the system allowed us to quit preventive maintenance and switch to condition-based maintenance.

25 years – it's a nice age, and it means that the company has decided on its main course and has a positive influence across the Russian Federation. You have a right to look ahead with confidence!
